Spring Planting Day Festival Saturday, April 27, 2013

The Thirteenth Annual Spring Planting Day will be on Saturday, April 27, 2013, at Bandy Creek and the Lora Blevins homeplace in Big South Fork National River and Recreation Area. Join park neighbors, volunteers and park staff as they demonstrate skills and tools that were important to a subsistence farming community on the Cumberland Plateau.

This event will feature plowing and planting done by mule and horse teams, traditional craft demonstrations and sales items, antique farming equipment and tractor display, and gardening. Music will be presented by the Knoxville Area Dulcimer Club. Children will be delighted by the old timey toys, farm animals and a special Junior Ranger booklet to complete.

The event will be held from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. Eastern Time. Everyone is invited to attend this free event. Food will be available for purchase or bring your picnic lunch and enjoy the day. For further information call (423) 286-7275.
