

Donating to Canaveral National Seashore

You can make a gift to benefit our park either directly to the National Park Service or to our primary non-profit, tax exempt support organization, "Friends of Canaveral". If you make your gift directly to the park, the entire gift will be used for the specific purpose you identify. No administrative costs are deducted from gifts made directly to the National Park Service. Your check will be deposited in a government account and the full amount will be spent as you intended.

Most parks have separate donation accounts for park-specific projects and programs for which you can earmark your gift. Government accounts are non-interest bearing and cannot generate interest between the time it is deposited and the time it is spent.

The advantage of making your gift check out to the "Friends of Canaveral", our park Friends Group, is that the amount will be deposited in an interest bearing account to assist park-prioritized requested projects or programs.
