

Broken Top Loop Trail

The Broken Top Loop Trail provides an opportunity to hike over, under, and around the youngest volcano on the Snake River Plain. The events that created this cinder cone and associated lava flows culminated about 2,000 years ago at the end of the most recent eruptive cycle. Find out more about the outstanding lava features along the trail by following the trail guide and numbered signs.

Please protect fragile lava features by staying on the designated trail and by following rock cairns across the lava. If you wish to explore Buffalo Cave, located next to sign #8, don't forget to bring a flashlight and watch your head as you enter the low ceiling of this lava tube.
