Trail Descriptions

- The blue-blazed Cove Trail starts at the Trailhead and leads you downhill past the Ice Pond, ending at a large freshwater tidal marsh. Do not pass gate onto railroad track - very hazardous.
 - The yellow Meadow Trail leads through forest and along the edge of the meadow, with excellent views of the FDR Home.
 - The green Forest Trail makes a 1.75 mile round trip from its starting point along the Cove Trail. This has very steep sections. If you bear right at the fork, you will walk under a white pine plantation planted by FDR in 1935.
 - The Hyde Park Trail, marked with Tulip-tree markers, passes through the site using the Cove and Forest Trails.
- From all trails, it is a steep uphill walk back to the park visitor center.
