Exploring the variety of life at Lake Mead National Recreation Area

Look around and listen for the sound of a bird and write how it sounds to you.

Look closely at two different kinds of plants, then describe two ways they are similar and different.

Listen quietly for 60 seconds, then list the sounds that you hear.

Feel the texture of two different rocks and draw a picture of each one and describe the differences.

List the colors that you see in nature.

Look for evidence of an animal and describe or draw what you find.

Count and record the number of different kinds of plants within the 12 inch plastic square provided.

Observe an insect or spider, then draw a picture of it.

Smell two different kinds of plants, then describe the smell you liked the best and why you liked it.
