COPYRIGHT AND RESTRICTIONS

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted materials. Meanwhile the various state privacy acts govern the use of materials that document private individuals, groups, and corporations.

Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a reproduction if the document does not infringe the privacy rights of an individual, group, or corporation. These specified conditions of authorized use include:

- non-commercial and non-profit study, scholarship, or research, or teaching
- criticism, commentary, or news reporting
- as a NPS preservation or security copy
- as a research copy for deposit in another institution

If a user later uses a copy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," the user may be personally liable for copyright, privacy, or publicity infringement. This institution's permission to obtain a photographic, xerographic, digital, or other copy of a document doesn't indicate permission to publish, exhibit, perform, reproduce, sell, distribute, or prepare derivative works from this document without first obtaining permission from the copyright holder and from any private individual, group, or corporation shown or otherwise recorded.

Permission to publish, exhibit, perform, reproduce, prepare derivative works from, sell, or otherwise distribute the item must be obtained by the user separately in writing from the holder of the original copyright (or if the creator is dead from his/her heirs) as well as from any individual(s), groups, or corporations whose name, image, recorded words, or private information (e.g., employment information) may be reproduced in the source material. The holder of the original copyright isn't necessarily the National Park Service. The National Park Service is not legally liable for copyright, privacy, or publicity infringement when materials are wrongfully used after being provided to researchers for "fair use."

This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if fulfillment of the order is judged in violation of copyright or federal or state privacy or publicity law.

NOTE ON SENSITIVE MATERIAL AND LANGUAGE

Materials in this collection contain references that include, but are not limited to lynching, segregation, racial discrimination, slurs, racist imagery, and sexual assault. It also features antiquated language that reflects the shifting discourse around race identity, community, and national belonging. Subseries and folders where these topics are discussed in records have been flagged with the bracketed description [Content Warning] when identified and where possible, but researchers should proceed with caution. Names of organizations have their original names intact.

INTRODUCTION

The Maggie Lena Walker Family Papers is an archival collection that was primarily found at the Walker family home, 110 ½ East Leigh Street, Richmond, Virginia. The home was established by the National Park Service in 1978 as the Maggie L. Walker National Historic Site (MAWA). These papers, along with the records of the Independent Order of St. Luke, and its Right Worthy Grand Council, the organization which Walker led, form the core of MAWA's historic archives.

In late spring of 1998, Jennifer Quinn, a Museum Technician for the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities working through a cooperative agreement with the Northeast Museum Services Center (NMSC), processed the bulk (20.5 linear feet) of the family papers. The papers were organized according to family members with further subdivisions such as diaries and correspondence. The collection was then rehoused in acid-free folders and archives boxes with metal fasteners removed. Particularly acidic materials were separated from other materials in a folder with acid-free paper. Oversize items were flattened and removed to the Oversize Materials series and into archival boxes with separation sheets indicating the original location.

Staff members at MAWA subsequently identified approximately three linear feet of Maggie Walker Family papers not processed in the original project. In addition, staff had identified the subjects of the over five hundred unprocessed photographs. In late 2015 and early 2016, NMSC Archivist Margaret Welch cataloged the remaining papers and updated the corresponding catalog records in the National Park Service's collection management system to include the photographs and other new items. MAWA Curator Ethan Bullard contributed the text for the updated biographical information and photographic descriptions.

In 2022, Sandra Kornyu, Delaney Sieber, and Kai Uchida, archivists from Northeast Museum Service Center working through agreements with American Conservation Experience and Great Basin Institute, began work on processing a 2020 donation from Margaret Stallings (Accession 100) along with a much smaller donation from the Sydnor family (Accession 107). After determining that the original order of the records could not be restored, the salvaged papers were reorganized within the hierarchy of the existing finding aid and the other historic collection at MAWA, The Right Worthy Grand Council, Independent Order of St. Luke Records, with appropriate updates made in biographical notes, series, and subseries descriptions. Documents were rehoused in acid-free folders and acidic materials were separated from other material in a folder by interleaving with acid-free paper. Oversize items were flattened, stabilized, and removed to Oversize Materials archival boxes with separation sheets indicating the original location.

This finding aid updates the original from 2016 and retains the three parts and one appendix as follows:

- Part 1: Collection Description:
 - a scope and content note (or brief synopsis of the collection),
 - an outline showing the organization of the collection, and
 - descriptions of the various series and subseries into which the collection is organized.
- Part 2: Biographical Notes:
 - brief biographical summaries for each of the members of the Walker family members represented in the collection.
- Part 3: Collection Listing:
 - a box and folder listing of the collection and of the items removed from the collection due to size. Some item level objects are listed to preserve information from the previous finding aid, particularly names of people and organizations.

- Appendix A: Index by Archival Number:
- An index of each item included in this collection according to the park's initial archival item numbering system. Includes a short description of each item, the series it is arranged under, and the box and folder number where it can be found. Unnumbered items are at the end.

PART 1: COLLECTION DESCRIPTION

Maggie Lena Walker Family Papers, 1854-1970 (bulk dates 1900-1935)

Provenance: The Maggie Lena Walker Family Papers were created by members of the Walker family at their residence, 110 1/2 E. Leigh Street, Richmond, VA. In 1979, Eastern National Park and Monument Association purchased the Walker family home and its contents before transferring ownership to the NPS.

In 2009, a substantial number of records (Accession 100) were recovered from the St. Luke's Building thanks to Margaret Stallings, whose family purchased the building in 1971. After their salvage, they were given to historian Heather Huyck, who, with a class of students from the College of William and Mary and volunteer groups, began a conservation effort that sought to preserve the collection. This project was never completed, and in 2020, the papers were donated to the National Park Service.

In April 2018, Harriet Lewis McFerson (1969-2018), great-granddaughter of Maggie Lena Walker and daughter of Maggie Laura Walker, mailed MAWA a box of loosely assembled family records a few months before her passing in California. In 2020, the National Park Service received a smaller donation from the family of filmmaker Bill Sydnor (Accession 107) in addition to the materials from Margaret Stallings (Accession 100). Accession 107 consists primarily of records that the still-active Independent Order of St. Luke had given to Bill Sydnor in 1984 to inform his documentary on Maggie L. Walker, with the expressed understanding that he would eventually donate these records to MAWA.

Catalog number: MAWA 99

Quantity: 31.7 linear feet

Storage: 36 legal size document boxes; 3 half legal-size document boxes; 2 index card boxes; 1 oversized box (14 1/2W X 18 1/2 L X 3H); and 13 oversized flat boxes.

Location: Maggie L. Walker National Historic Site, c/o Richmond National Battlefield Park, 3215 East Broad Street, Richmond, Virginia 23223-7517. (804) 226-5040.

Scope and Content: The Maggie Lena Walker Family Papers consist of personal materials, correspondence, legal and financial records, collected materials, sheet music, and photographs of Maggie Lena Walker and several of her family members. The papers are arranged into seventeen series including the papers of Maggie Lena Walker; her mother, Elizabeth Mitchell; her husband, Armstead Walker, Jr.; her sons, Russell E.T. Walker, and Melvin D. Walker; her daughters-in-law Hattie N.F. Walker and Ethel R. Walker; her grandchildren Maggie Laura Walker, Armstead Walker III, and Mamie E. Walker; and her adopted daughter, Polly Anderson Payne. Walker's youngest granddaughter, Elizabeth Walker, was perhaps too young to generate any records before she moved out of the home. In addition to the personal papers listed above, the collection also includes some Independent Order of St. Luke records that were found in the Walker home and likely belonged to Maggie Lena Walker or Hattie N.F. Walker. The remainder of the series consists of a small group of unassociated records, the Walker family's sheet music collection, the Walker family's photographs, archival items that were removed from the family's books, and items that were removed from the main collection due to size.

The great majority of the collection is comprised of the personal papers of Maggie Lena Walker, her granddaughter Maggie Laura Walker, and, to a lesser extent, Hattie N.F. Walker. The personal papers of the rest of the family members are much less complete. Within each person's papers, the papers are organized into the following subseries, as appropriate for each series: Personal Materials, Legal and Financial Records, Correspondence, Public Addresses, Organizations, and Collected Materials. In 2018, Harriett McFerson, great-granddaughter of Maggie Lena Walker, donated a box of family papers to the park before she passed away. These papers include business correspondence for Maggie Walker, Armstead Walker, Jr., and Hattie Walker; personal property deeds and utility bills; life insurance documents; cemetery, funeral, and burial documents; Hattie Walker's efforts to secure pension payments on behalf of her late husband; and two newspapers - a 1910 St. Luke Herald and a 1974 Richmond Afro-American. The Organizations subseries in Maggie Lena Walker's papers grew dramatically thanks to Accession 100.

Related Collections: The Right Worthy Grand Council of Virginia, Independent Order of St. Luke Records (MAWA 9388) and the Walker Family Stereograph Collection (MAWA 391).

Below is a brief description of each series within the Maggie Lena Walker Family Papers. A general description of each subseries within the series follows on page 21.

I. MAGGIE LENA WALKER PAPERS, 1897-1935

Maggie Lena Walker's papers include the following subseries: Personal Materials, Legal and Financial Records, Correspondence, Public Addresses, Organizations, and Collected Materials. Following the Stallings Family donation, this subseries has been significantly enriched and contains a wide range of records that demonstrate Walker as a mother and head of her household, a philanthropist, a local celebrity, and an influential figure of national importance among various Black civic and social organizations. A detailed portrait of Walker, her health and personal life, and her role as matriarch of the Walker family can be found in her Legal and Financial Records. Walker's personal friendships, civil rights activity, and professional life outside of the Independent Order of St. Luke are well represented in the Correspondence and Organizations subseries.

II. ELIZABETH MITCHELL PAPERS, UNDATED

No substantial papers of Elizabeth Mitchell were found with this collection. Her “papers” are organized into one subseries, Collected Materials, and they include only two gift tags.

III. ARMSTEAD WALKER JR., 1903-1915

Only five items were preserved of Armstead Walker, Jr.’s papers. They are organized into two subseries: Financial Records and Organizations, and they include a few receipts and certificates.

IV. RUSSELL E.T. WALKER, 1901-1920

A small amount of material remains of Russell E.T. Walker’s papers. They are organized into the following three subseries: Personal Materials, Financial Records, and Collected Materials. The Personal Materials include Russell’s marriage certificate as well as several accounting lessons that he completed at La Salle Extension University. The Financial Records are comprised of several receipts, including some receipts for a life insurance policy premium. Lastly, the Collected Materials includes only a graduation program from Richmond High and Normal School.

V. HATTIE N.F. WALKER, 1905-1966

A more significant amount of Hattie N.F. Walker’s papers have been preserved. They are organized into five subseries: Personal Materials, Financial Records, Correspondence, Organizations, and Collected Materials. As with Maggie Lena Walker, however, Hattie did not write down the details of her life. None of the subseries within Hattie’s papers are particularly complete, but they do provide limited information about a bookkeeping class at Columbia University, some financial and social activities, as well as topics that interested her.

VI. MELVIN D. WALKER PAPERS, 1906-1935

The handful of documents that remain of Melvin Dewitt Walker are organized into four subseries: Personal Materials, Financial Records, Correspondence, and Collected Materials. While few, these records provide limited information about Melvin’s education at LaSalle Extension University, tax and insurance data, along with some correspondence. There are also records of Melvin’s medical history, life insurance policy, personal identification, and financial activity featured in his papers. See also Maggie Lena Walker Papers – Legal and Financial Records – Consolidated Bank and Trust Co. -- [E.C. Burke Correspondence] and [Maggie L. Walker Promissory note signed by Melvin D. Walker].

VII. ETHEL R. WALKER PAPERS, 1925-1935

Ethel Robinson Walker's papers consist of only a few items, and they are arranged into two subseries: Personal Materials and Financial Records. The Personal Materials consist of several certificates Ethel received from the Baker-Armstrong Night School, and the Financial Records include a poll tax receipt from the city of Richmond. Ethel's papers also contain financial records concerning her separation from Melvin Walker and their outstanding financial issues. Documents related to legal issues between Melvin and his wife, Ethel, can be found in the Right Worthy Grand Council, Independent Order of St. Luke Records in the folder for Attorney J. Thomas Hewin under the Administration – Legal Matters subseries.

VIII. MAGGIE LAURA WALKER PAPERS, 1915-1950

A substantial amount of the Maggie Lena Walker Family Papers is made up of Maggie Laura Walker's papers, particularly those from her childhood and early adulthood. They are arranged into the following five subseries: Personal Materials, Correspondence, Public Addresses, Organizations, and Collected Materials. The most significant portion of Maggie Laura's papers are her educational records, which are arranged by institution within the Personal Materials subseries. Much of Maggie Laura's certificates, grade records, and assignments have been preserved, including records from Hartshorn Memorial College, the Monroe School, Armstrong Normal School, Booker Washington School, Armstrong High School, Virginia Union University, and the University of Michigan Medical School. The Organizations subseries also contains records from Maggie Laura's time at Virginia Union University. The remainder of Maggie Laura's papers includes various correspondence – including letters between her and her grandmother Maggie Lena – and collected materials that help to illustrate Maggie Laura's social life.

IX. ARMSTEAD WALKER III PAPERS, UNDATED, 1928-1931

This series contains a musical composition book of Armstead Walker's which is placed in a Personal Materials subseries. A letter from Armstead Walker to Maggie Lena Walker while he was in New York City visiting his Aunt Evelyn is also included in this series and placed in a Correspondence subseries.

X. MAMIE E. WALKER PAPERS, 1931-1939

Three items belonging to Mamie Evelyn Walker are included in this series, and they are organized in two subseries: Personal Materials and Correspondence. Two of the items are education records, and the third is a letter written to Mamie.

XI. POLLY PAYNE PAPERS, 1919-1953

Polly Payne's personal papers are organized into the following four subseries: Personal Materials, Correspondence, Organizations, and Collected Materials. Each series includes only a few items.

XII. INDEPENDENT ORDER OF ST. LUKE RECORDS, 1877-1970

The Independent Order of St. Luke (IOSL) was an integral part of the lives of the Walker family, Maggie Lena and Hattie in particular. The extent to which the IOSL played a part in their home life is demonstrated by the amount of IOSL records that were found in the Walker home. In general, the records were not found in any particular order, so the records were arranged in the 1998-1999 cataloging project according to the structure of the IOSL into the following nine subseries: Right Worthy Grand Council Records, Receiving Department Records, Bookkeeping and Auditing Department Records, Membership Records, Policy Department Records, Printing Department/Publicity Records, St. Luke Health Club Records, St. Luke Penny Savings Bank Records, and Collected Materials. Researchers should note that the Right Worthy Grand Council, Independent Order of St. Luke Records, 1897-1975 (MAWA 9388) are organized differently but hold much related material including publications.

As would be expected, many of the Independent Order of St. Luke Records that are arranged here are incomplete series – they reflect what Maggie Lena or Hattie happened to bring home and the publications that they collected personally. Perhaps most significant, the Right Worthy Grand Council Records include the records that the Grand Council likely used in the administration of the fraternal order, and include charters, titles, deeds, contracts, correspondence, annual and semiannual reports, and notes. The Receiving Department Records include blank stationery and registered mail receipts. The Bookkeeping and Auditing Department Records contain some financial records from the IOSL including an expense chart, bank records, monthly assessment forms, and miscellaneous forms. The Membership Records include various applications, investigating committee records, and rosters of several IOSL councils. The Policy Department Records include some establishing documents, certificates, and handouts. Publications relate to the IOSL's constitutions, ceremonies, and rituals and include programs from IOSL events, souvenir books, annual reports, journals of proceedings, brochures, and a few issues of The St. Luke Fraternal Bulletin and the St. Luke Fraternal Monitor.

XIII. UNASSOCIATED MATERIALS, 1894-1979

The Unassociated Materials series includes records like those described above, but for which the family connection is unclear. They are arranged into the following five subseries: Personal Materials, Financial Records, Correspondence, Collected Materials, and Non-Family Members. The great majority of this series is made up of Collected Materials, which includes a section of clippings about Maggie Lena Walker that were printed after her death. The Non-Family Members subseries includes the records for which a creator was determined, but they did not fit into the Walker family's papers. This subseries is arranged alphabetically by name.

XIV. SHEET MUSIC COLLECTION, 1872-1948

There was a significant amount of sheet music found in the Walker home. The sheet music has been arranged by title, with the unidentified pieces at the end. Notations are included in the finding aid if a piece of music is related to a particular family member, as indicated by inscriptions on the item. The series is primarily comprised of popular music, and it also includes some religious and classical study pieces.

XV. PHOTOGRAPHS

This series includes the photographic materials found in the house (both as framed wall-hangings and loose photographs including negatives). Subjects include individual and group portraits of Maggie Lena, her family members, their friends, and colleagues in photographic studios and more informal settings. In addition to the photographs found in the Walker home, this series includes photographs (both framed and unframed) that were donated to the Maggie L. Walker National Historic Site after 1979.

XVI. ITEMS REMOVED FROM BOOKS, 1854-1970

Archival items that were found in books in the Walker home are arranged in this series by title of the book in which it was found. When possible, the finding aid includes a cross-reference from the subcollection that would have contained the item had it not been found in a book.

XVII. OVERSIZE MATERIALS

Items that are larger than legal size have been removed from the main collection and are stored with this series in larger flat boxes. When an item is removed, a separation sheet is left in its place to indicate the same.

Subseries Descriptions

As indicated in the series descriptions, within each person's papers, the materials are grouped into as many as six subseries: Personal Materials, Legal and Financial Records, Correspondence, Public Addresses, Organizations, and Collected Materials. General descriptions of each of these subseries follow below.

PERSONAL MATERIALS

These materials relate to the personal life of each family member. They are arranged by type of material and may include diaries, personal notebooks, address books, education records, religious records, medical records, estate records, and any biographical notes.

LEGAL AND/OR FINANCIAL RECORDS

These types of records include bills and receipts, estimates, inventories, bank records (including correspondence, cancelled checks, promissory notes, and other notices), real estate records, stock records, tax returns and receipts, and insurance records. The materials are arranged by type into subseries. If necessary, they are arranged by financial institution, and thereunder by type of document.

CORRESPONDENCE

While Maggie Lena Walker is well represented in correspondence, other family members have very few letters. Within this series there are three sub-subseries: Incoming, Outgoing, and Additional Correspondence which includes contents from the Stallings Family Donation. Many of the folders in this sub-subseries contain both incoming and outgoing correspondence. These were found in the most recent donation (MAWA-100) already with incoming and outgoing associated with each other which is why they are not separated. While Walker's correspondence is grouped alphabetically by name of individual and chronologically, the smaller scale and quantity of correspondence for other family members does not warrant any further arrangement. Other Correspondence may include a few letters written about a particular family member, although they are not written by or to them.

PUBLIC ADDRESSES

Copies of speeches or notes about speeches made by family members are organized into this subseries.

ORGANIZATIONS

Several family members actively participated in many community, religious, and political organizations. Records of their involvement with these organizations and the information that they gathered about these groups are included in this subseries. Materials include membership cards, certificates, clippings, and publicity materials including brochures and pamphlets. These papers are arranged alphabetically by organization, then chronologically.

The Organization subseries in the Maggie Lena Walker series additionally features correspondence, meeting notes, reports, and associated materials that demonstrate her prominence and role in the many civil rights organizations, fraternal organizations, and social clubs that she led and supported. Notable conversations include but are not limited to those with W.E.B. DuBois and Mary McLeod Bethune. In addition, the sub-subseries, Additional Organizations, contains the files from the Stallings Family donation. While files with existing series were sorted accordingly, there were far too many new organizations to create individual sub-subseries for each one resulting in the remaining files being put in the Additional Organizations sub-subseries.

Several folders in the Organization subseries feature folders that contain a bolded [Content Warning] bracketed description in the folder title. These flagged folders have been identified for potentially sensitive material to some researchers, with references that include, but are not limited to, lynching, racial violence and discrimination, sexual assault, racist imagery, and slurs. Where identified and possible, these folders have been flagged, but researchers should proceed with caution.

COLLECTED MATERIALS

This subseries is composed of items which Walker family members collected for sentimental, historical, or informational purposes. It is arranged alphabetically by type and may include the following sub-subseries: advertisements, booklets and pamphlets, business and/or visiting cards, clippings, invitations, poetry and songs, postcards (blank), programs, scrapbooks, stationery (blank), and miscellaneous notes.

PART 2: BIOGRAPHICAL NOTES

Maggie Lena Walker (1864-1934)²

Maggie Lena Walker was born on July 15, 1864, to a young, formerly enslaved African American woman named Elizabeth Draper and a white, Irish-born Confederate soldier named Eccles Cuthbert. Maggie was born on the mansion grounds of Elizabeth Van Lew, a prominent abolitionist, and Civil War spy in Richmond's Church Hill neighborhood. Draper, along with William Mitchell, her future husband and father to her second child, both worked as paid servants for Van Lew until 1868 when they moved to College Alley, in the Capitol Hill neighborhood.

When she was young, Maggie attended the Lancasterian School (also known as the Valley School), followed by middle school at Navy Hill School, and finally at Richmond Colored Normal School. After graduating in 1883³, she returned to the Lancasterian School as a teacher for three years.

In September 1886³, Maggie Lena married Armstead Walker, Jr., a building contractor. The couple had three sons; one son died in infancy. The surviving sons were named Russell E.T. Walker and Melvin D. Walker.

The Independent Order of St. Luke (IOSL) almost always played a tremendous role in Maggie Lena's life. Established in 1867 by Mary Prout, the Order was called the Grand United Order of St. Luke when Maggie joined her local council (Good Idea #16) as a teenager. An African American fraternal insurance society, the Order's mission was to assure proper health care and burial arrangements for its members, as well as to promote humanitarian causes and encourage individual self-help and integrity. Maggie occupied various leadership positions in the Order until 1899, when she was elected Right Worthy Grand Secretary (later, Right Worthy Grand Secretary-Treasurer), the position she would hold until her death.

In 1899, the IOSL endured some of its toughest times, with membership at a low point and few financial assets. Through Walker's dedication, determination, and hard work, however, the IOSL flourished. Indeed, by 1922, the Order touted a membership of 100,000, a new headquarters building in Richmond, and over 200 employees. Through Maggie's vision, the Order expanded, creating a newspaper, The St. Luke Herald, the short-lived St. Luke Emporium, and the St. Luke Penny Savings Bank. The opening of the latter made Walker the first African American female bank president in the United States.

Walker's vision for race pride and civil rights advancement did not end with the Independent Order of St. Luke. She was also active in several civic organizations. Among other roles, she was on the Board of Directors of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), a trustee of the Frederick Douglass Home and the National Association of Colored Women's Clubs (NACWC), a board member for the Virginia Industrial School for Colored Children, vice president of the National Negro Bankers Association and National Negro Business League, and founder and president of the Richmond-based Council of Colored Women.

In the midst of this strenuous and successful career, hardship and tragedy permeated Maggie Walker's life. In March 1908, she fell and injured her knee, an injury that continued to trouble her long after the fall, likely due to latent diabetes. Further tragedy struck in 1915 when her eldest son, Russell, mistook her husband for a prowler and shot him dead. By 1928, Walker's advanced diabetes had paralyzed her legs, necessitating the use of a wheelchair.

While certainly these tribulations brought sorrow into Maggie Lena's life, she continued to labor on – happily. In 1931, she wrote:

I have indeed been happy in all these years of service; nothing encountered has lastingly impressed me as a hardship, weighed against the achievements of our splendid organization. My heart has sung out, "Inspiration," when physical strength has all but failed, but with eyes ever set to the golden horizon and the wonderful "rainbow of promise" always just ahead, I've kept happy and traveled through the years to the music of the St. Luke drum tap.⁴

The growth of Walker's order slowed in the late 1920s as adverse economic conditions for Black Americans affected recruitment in the Order and took a worrying turn with the start of the Great Depression in 1929. While Walker was able to keep the Order operational during such dire financial times, they struggled to sustain membership and successfully recruit new members.

Despite her declining health, Maggie Lena Walker continued to work until her death at the end of 1934. She continued to serve in leadership roles across the NAACP, the NACWC, the Commission on Interracial Cooperation, and several other civic organizations even though she was increasingly unable to travel.

Hard work, hope, and faith in the "rainbow of promise" are Maggie Lena Walker's legacies.

She died on December 15, 1934, due to complications of diabetes. She is buried in a family plot at Richmond's Evergreen Cemetery.

Elizabeth Draper Mitchell (circa 1848-1922)

Born Elizabeth Draper, not much is known about Elizabeth's childhood. Formerly enslaved, she worked as a paid assistant to the cook in the mansion of the abolitionist Elizabeth Van Lew. In 1868 she married a fellow Van Lew employee, butler, William Mitchell. Mitchell became the headwaiter at the Saint Charles Hotel in Richmond's Shockoe Bottom neighborhood, but in 1876 he was murdered, likely the victim of a robbery. Elizabeth supported her two children, Maggie Lena and Johnnie Mitchell, by taking in laundry from other families. She later became a well-respected midwife and would spend the rest of her life in her daughter's company, eventually dying in the Walker's Leigh Street home on February 12, 1922.

Armstead Walker, Jr. (circa 1859-1915)

Only vague details of Armstead, Jr.'s life are known. He was the son of Armstead and Mary Walker of Richmond, Virginia.⁵ He graduated from Richmond Colored Normal School in June 1875.⁶

Armstead Walker, Jr. was a brick contractor with his family's business when he married Maggie Lena Mitchell on September 14, 1886. He was also a member of the U.S. Letter Carrier's Mutual Benefit Association, serving as a letter carrier in downtown Richmond.⁷ Like his wife, Mr. Walker attended First African Baptist Church and was also an active member in the fraternal world, both with the IOSL and the Odd Fellows.

Tragically, Armstead was killed on June 20, 1915, when his son, Russell, mistook him for a burglar and shot him within the family home.

Russell E.T. Walker (1890-1923)

Born December 9, 1890, Russell Eccles Talmage was the eldest son of Maggie Lena and Armstead Walker, Jr.

Russell married Hattie Naomi Frazier on September 26, 1912. The couple stayed at 110½ East Leigh Street living with the greater Walker family as opposed to living in their own home. The couple had one surviving daughter, Maggie Laura Walker.

Russell received two diplomas, one from the Richmond Public Schools in 1904⁸ and a second from the Richmond Colored Normal School in 1907.⁹ He completed a course in higher accountancy and life insurance at the LaSalle Extension University and the University of Pennsylvania.¹⁰

¹⁰ "Laying the Saint Luke Foundation," A-1936 (Subcollection XII. IOSL Records, box 15, folder 7).

Russell worked at the Independent Order of St. Luke, beginning as an apprentice, and working his way into different departments. In 1912, Russell was a clerk and teller at the St. Luke Penny Savings Bank.¹¹ Russell eventually became an Actuarial Secretary at the Order. His most important work consisted of a “comprehensive survey of the purposes, needs and possible adoptions of new insurance features” for the Order. As a result of this work, Russell spent five years compiling data on the health rates and vital statistics of various representative communities. Using the resulting data and the American Experience Table of Mortality, Russell formulated a plan of insurance based on a flat rate, depending on the age of the individual insured. This plan was later adopted by the Commissioners of the Virginia Insurance Department.¹²

In 1915, Russell tragically mistook his father for a prowler and shot and killed him. He never recovered from the experience, and the final eight years could be described as peripatetic as he bounced from Officers Training Camp at Fort Wayne, Detroit to railroad work in Philadelphia to the accounting office at Tuskegee Institute, to working for a “Hungarian nerve specialist” in Brooklyn, New York.¹³ At the time of his death, however, it was said that Russell was working for the IOSL again, preparing a map “showing graphically the locations of councils and district organizations throughout the Saint Luke jurisdictions.” He died on November 23rd, 1923, at the age of 32.¹⁴ He was laid to rest in the family plot at Evergreen Cemetery.

Hattie N.F. Walker (circa 1890-1974)

Harriet “Hattie” Naomi Frazier Walker was the youngest daughter of Herbert and Laura Frazier of New York City. She graduated from the Washington Irving High School there. Following graduation, she worked for Mr. Philip A. Payton, a real estate dealer, as a stenographer and typewriter.¹⁵

Hattie was born in Richmond but raised in New York City, and her mother was thought to have been one of the first African Americans to settle in the neighborhood that became known as Harlem. The Frazier family was always close with the Walkers, but Hattie’s marriage to Maggie’s oldest son, Russell, on September 26, 1912, sealed their bond. Throughout her time as a resident at 110 ½ East Leigh Street, Hattie regularly visited her family in New York and even, for short time just before Russell’s death in 1923, took a job there working for the NAACP’s journal, The Crisis. Following Maggie L. Walker’s death, Hattie continued to live at 110 ½ East Leigh Street, becoming chiefly responsible for keeping the home in the Walker family. In 1937, after having worked for the Independent Order of St. Luke for many years (serving as an organist,¹⁶ a clerk in the Adult Department,¹⁷ the Acting Right Worthy Grand Secretary,¹⁸ and a member of the Board of Trustees.¹⁹), Hattie was elected to her late mother-in-law’s position as head of the organization and served in that capacity for 20 years.

Hattie spent the majority of her adult life at the family's Leigh Street home, all the while preserving the Walkers' furnishings, decorations, and personal records. It was Hattie's foresight that enabled the National Park Service to create such a comprehensive memorial to Maggie L. Walker. She died in Chicago on August 4, 1974 and upon her death, willed 110 ½ East Leigh Street to her daughter Dr. Maggie Laura Walker Lewis.

Melvin D. Walker (1897- 1935)

Born in Richmond on August 10, 1897, Melvin was the youngest son of Maggie Lena and Armstead Walker, Jr.

He graduated from the Richmond Public Schools in June 1910²⁰ and Shaw Academy (a preparatory school administered by Shaw University) in May 1916.²¹ He later joined the Omega Psi Phi fraternity while attending a student army training camp at Howard University.²² Like his older brother, Melvin also completed coursework in accounting at the LaSalle Extension University from 1919-1921.²³

Melvin worked as a youth employee in the St. Luke Emporium, in the general offices of the Independent Order of St. Luke, and eventually and as an assistant cashier in the St. Luke Penny Savings Bank.

Melvin married Ethel Robinson on March 12, 1919. The couple had three children, Armstead III, Mamie Evelyn, and Elizabeth Mitchell. However, due to factors including financial hardship, Melvin and Ethel separated in the late 1920s.

He died from pneumonia on December 31, 1935 at the age of 38 and was interred in the Walker plot at Evergreen Cemetery.

Ethel R. Walker (1900-1983)

Ethel Robinson Walker was born on March 4, 1900. She and her twin sister, Evelyn, were the youngest of four children. Ethel's brother Spottswood Robinson, Jr. worked as a real estate agent and had an office in Maggie L. Walker's bank building. His son - Ethel's nephew - Spottswood Robinson III went on to become a lawyer who was part of the legal team which successfully overturned racial segregation in the Brown v. Board of Education Supreme Court case of 1954. Ethel moved into 110 ½ East Leigh Street after her marriage on March 12, 1919, to Maggie L. Walker's youngest son, Melvin. Ethel gave birth to their three children, Armstead III, Mamie Evelyn, and Elizabeth at 110 ½ East Leigh Street, but her separation from Melvin in the late 1920s prompted her and their children to move away from the Walkers and into Ethel's nearby childhood home a few blocks west on Leigh Street. She attended the Baker-Armstrong Night School from 1926-1927.²⁴

Ethel married a serviceman and cook named William Chambers in 1943 and continued to reside at her ancestral home until her death on May 8, 1983. Like Maggie L. Walker, Ethel ultimately dedicated herself to helping others through a long career as a social worker. She worked for many years at the Family Services Society of

Richmond – a forerunner to Family Lifeline which strives “to bring health and hope directly into the homes of Central Virginia’s most vulnerable children, families, and seniors.”²⁵

Maggie Laura Walker (1918-1986)

Maggie Laura was born to Russell E.T. and Hattie N.F. Walker on February 16, 1918²⁶ and grew up in the Walkers’ Leigh Street home.

She attended the Hartshorn Memorial College’s Model School from 1924-1925, the Monroe School in 1927, the Armstrong Normal School in 1928, and the Booker T. Washington School from 1929-1930. From there, Maggie Laura graduated from Armstrong High School in 1933. She then attended Virginia Union University, from which she graduated in 1937. Medical school followed, and she graduated from the University of Michigan in 1941.²⁷

Maggie Laura married Dr. John William Lewis in December of 1942 in the Leigh Street Walker home. The couple had two children, John William Lewis, Jr. (February 15, 1946 – April 9, 1987²⁸) and Harriett Walker Lewis (February 11, 1954 - July 28, 2018).

Maggie Laura was an intern at the Provident Hospital of the University of Chicago. Following residency, she practiced pediatrics in Chicago, Illinois, and remained a pediatrician on staff at the Provident Hospital. During World War II, Maggie Laura moved to Birmingham, Alabama, where she was a pediatrician in Jefferson County and the Chief Medical Officer for the Rapid Treatment Center for Control of Venereal Disease for the United States Public Health Service.

On July 15, 1979, Dr. Maggie Laura Walker Lewis transferred the deed of the Walker home to the National Park Service. Dr. Lewis died on December 17, 1986, in Chicago and is buried in that city’s Oakridge-Glen Oak Cemetery.

Armstead Walker III (1919-1986)

Born September 25, 1919, Armstead was the first child born to Melvin and Ethel Walker. Armstead graduated from Armstrong High School in 1935 and enlisted in the Army Corps of Engineers during World War II. He settled briefly in Englewood, New Jersey but moved back to Virginia by 1950 where he lived for the remainder of his life as a farmer or laborer. Armstead was married three times over the course of his life and among his children were twin boys, Russell and Melvin, named after his father and uncle. He died February 18, 1986, in Powhatan County, VA.

Mamie E. Walker (1922-2004)

Mamie Evelyn was the second of three children born to Melvin and Ethel Walker. Named after her mother's twin sister, Mamie Evelyn was born at 110 ½ East Leigh Street on September 21, 1922. She attended Armstrong Normal Elementary School²⁹ and later earned a Bachelor of Music degree from Howard University in June 1944. That same month and year, she married a serviceman and fellow Howard classmate, St. Elmo Crawford, at her mother's home. The couple settled in Washington, D.C. where St. Elmo worked as a dentist. Mamie Evelyn earned a Master of Education from New York University in 1946 and became an educator and activist for social justice. In her later years, Mamie Evelyn traveled regularly between Washington and Richmond to support educational programs related to the history of Maggie L. Walker. She died on January 5, 2004, and is buried alongside her husband at Arlington National Cemetery.

Polly Payne (ca. 1890-1967)

Margaret Anderson, also known as Polly Payne, is believed to have joined the Walker family soon after she was born and remained with them all her life. Though her exact lineage is unknown, she appears to have been a distant relative through Maggie's husband, Armstead Walker, Jr. With Maggie Walker's relentless schedule, she needed a responsible house servant to oversee the domestic responsibilities for the ever-expanding family. Walker found that person in Polly, whom she employed to oversee the family's cooking, cleaning, shopping, and laundry needs. She and her husband, Maurice Payne, shared a first-floor bedroom for several years until Maurice's death in 1925 at which point Polly moved upstairs. The love and care she showed to Maggie L. Walker for many years was both recognized by and passed along to the rest of the family who embraced Polly as one of their own. In Walker's final years, it was Polly who served as her devoted nurse and assistant. Following Mrs. Walker's death, Polly continued to live at 110 ½ East Leigh Street with Hattie and Maggie Laura, deepening their bond. Polly passed away on March 2, 1967, in Chicago, while living with Maggie Laura, and is interred at Richmond's Evergreen Cemetery in the Walker family plot.

Elizabeth Walker (1924-2015)

Though the Walker Family Papers do not include papers from Elizabeth Walker, it is important to note she, like her siblings and cousin, spent her early years in the Walker's Leigh Street home, and she appears as a subject in several family portraits in the Photograph subseries of this collection. Elizabeth was born September 25, 1924, the youngest and final child of Melvin and Ethel Walker. Just before completing her degree at Virginia State College in 1945, Elizabeth married fellow classmate John Mickens and, like her older sister, settled in Washington, D.C. She later married Cpl. Carl Randolph and returned to Richmond where she worked as an employee for the Department of Parks and Recreation. In that capacity, Elizabeth looked out for the less fortunate in her community, a trait her mother claimed Elizabeth inherited from Maggie L. Walker. The vivid recollections of Elizabeth and her siblings about growing up at 110 ½ East Leigh Street and the home itself have played a major role in the National Park Service's efforts to restore and interpret the home to the public. She passed away in Richmond on February 16, 2015.

APPENDIX A: INDEX BY ARCHIVAL CONTROL NUMBER

In the 1980s, Maggie Lena Walker National Historic Site staff inventoried all the site's archival collections in a handwritten list. Each item or group of items was assigned an inventory number and labeled as such. The archival holdings were not arranged in any way, and they seem to have been inventoried in a somewhat random order. The list was updated as part of the 2016 cataloging project. See Series XV. Photographs for the photos' archival numbers.
