- Two waistcoats (linen for summer, wool for winter)
- Two pairs of knee breeches, overalls or trousers (linen for summer, wool for winter)

A soldier will also to be provided with the following equipment.

- A musket, with bayonet
- A cartridge box with ammunition
- A haversack for holding your food

- One pound of bread or flour per day
- Three pints of peas, beans or vegetables per week
- One pint of milk per day
- One half pint of rice or corn meal per week

A private is paid six and two-thirds dollars per month. As you rise in rank, you will be paid more—a sergeant is paid ten dollars a month.

The State of New Jersey is paying a bounty of ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS to each man who enlists. In addition, the Continental Congress will give each soldier ONE HUNDRED ACRES OF LAND when the war is over, for those who serve until the end of the war.

If a soldier is seriously wounded, he would leave the army and receive half his pay for the rest of his life. If he dies as a soldier, his widow and children receive half his pay, as long as she does not remarry.

By serving the United States of America, you will receive food, clothing, money and land—and help create a new nation. After the war, you will be considered a hero by your fellow citizens and be able to begin a new life for you and your family.
