

Hello, friend! My name is Ashley and I'm 8 years old. I'm in Washington, D.C. with my grandma. We are here for the 50th anniversary of the March on Washington for Jobs and Freedom. My grandma was the same age as I am when she attended the original march on August 28, 1963. I asked her what the march was all about. Follow me as we discover the answers together!

Match any of the Injustices to an Action:
(More than one may apply, there is no wrong answer)

Grandma told me that when she was a little girl many rules caused people to be treated differently because of the color of their skin.

People across America came together taking Action in many ways to raise awareness and change these Injustices.

MY DREAM...

Grandma told me that Dr. King gave his famous "I Have a Dream" speech at 3 p.m. on August 28, 1963. He was the last of many speakers who addressed a huge crowd about the injustices they faced and their hopes for a brighter future.

How would you make the future better?

How would you bring awareness to your cause?

A large thought bubble containing several horizontal lines for writing.

"Make a career of humanity. Commit yourself to the noble struggle for equal rights. You will make a greater person of yourself, a greater nation of your country, and a finer world to live in."
