

Fishways

Waterfalls, rapids, log jams, landslides, beaver dams, human-made dams and culverts can block fish trying to migrate upstream. To help fish move around these obstacles, fishways of different types have been built. Fish ladders, for example, are a series of steps, like staircases, with water flowing over them.

Help these fish find their way up the fish ladder.

