Insurance proceeds covering any loss of the Premises but not used to replace such losses shall be promptly paid by Permittee to Permitter. The use of insurance proceeds for the repair, restoration or replacement of the Premises shall not give any ownership interest therein to Permittee.
- g) Public Liability: The Permittee shall provide Comprehensive General Liability insurance against claims arising from or association with Permittee's use and occupancy of the Premises. Such insurance shall be in the amount commensurate with the degree of risk and the scope and size of such use and occupancy, but in any event, the limits of such insurance shall not be less than $500,000.00 per occurrence covering both bodily injury and property damage. No approval by the Permitter of any insurer, or the terms or conditions of any policy, or any coverage or amount of insurance, or any deductible amount shall be construed as a representation by the Permitter of the solvency of the insurer or the sufficiency of any policy or any coverage or amount of insurance or deductible. By requiring insurance herein, the Permitter does not represent that coverage and limits will necessarily be adequate to protect Permittee, and such coverage and limits shall not be deemed as a limitation on Permittee's liability under the indemnities granted to the Permitter in this Permit. Failure of the Permitter to demand such certificate or other evidence of full compliance with these insurance requirements or failure of the Permitter to identify a deficiency from evidence that is provided shall not be construed as a waiver of Permittee's obligation to maintain such insurance.

18) INDEMNITY

- a) In addition to the indemnification contained in Article 9, Permittee shall indemnify, defend, save and hold Permitter, its employees, successors, agents and assigns, harmless from and against, and reimburse Permitter for, any and all claims, demands, damages, injuries, losses, penalties, fines, costs (including consultant fees and expert fees), liabilities, causes of action, judgments and expenses and the like for any loss of business revenue or income, any loss or destruction of, or damage to, any real or personal property, including but not limited to damage by fire or other perils, or for the death of or injury to persons, of any nature whatsoever and by whomever made, which may arise out of or be incident in any way to this Permit: the use or occupancy of the Premises by Permittee or its officers, agents, employees, or contractors; the design, construction, maintenance, or condition of any Improvements or Alterations; or any accident or occurrence on the Premises or elsewhere arising out of the use or occupancy of the Premises by Permittee or its officers, agents, employees, or contractors, whether or not the same shall be occasioned by their negligence or lack of diligence. - b) Permitter agrees to cooperate, to the extent allowed by law, in the submission of claims pursuant to the Federal Tort Claims Act against the United States by third parties for personal injuries or property damage resulting from the negligent act or omission of any employee of the United States in the course of his or her employment.

If Permitter determines that the Compliance Activity is warranted, Permitter will prepare NEPA or NHPA documents as appropriate. Permittee shall not implement any aspect of the Compliance Activity until all applicable NEPA and NHPA requirements have been met.

23) ANNUAL MEETING

- a) The Parties shall meet annually in June of each year during the term of this Permit for the purposes of discussing and resolving issues of mutual concern and ensuring that Permittee is in compliance with the provisions of this Permit. Any proposed changes or modifications to this Permit which are required in order to meet National Park Service requirements or objectives, including range management objectives, shall be discussed and negotiated at the Annual Meeting. If National Park Service requirements or objectives require prompt attention, the date for the Annual Meeting may reasonably be changed by Permitter.

24) PENALTY

- a) At the option of the Permitter, Permitter may, in lieu of voiding and terminating this Permit, assess a penalty of $100.00 per day for any failure by Permittee to keep and perform any of the Provisions of this Permit. In such case, Permittee shall be given notice in writing of a grace period (from one to thirty days) to remedy the situation before a penalty will be assessed. Payment of any penalty under this provision shall not excuse Permittee from curing the Default. This provision shall not be construed as preventing Permitter from issuing citations or initiating enforcement proceedings under Applicable Laws.

25) TERM

- a) Prior to the Expiration Date of this Permit, this Permit, or a similar permit, may be offered to Permittee for an additional period.
- b) If a subsequent permit is not entered into prior to the Expiration Date, the Provisions of this Permit regarding Permittee's obligations to surrender and vacate the Premises shall apply.
- c) Notwithstanding the foregoing, Permitter shall have no obligation to offer a subsequent permit to Permittee if Permittee breaches any of the Provisions of this Permit or if Permittee terminates this Permit prior to its Expiration Date.

26) SURRENDER AND VACATE THE PREMISES, RESTORATION

- a) Within 90 days of the termination date of this permit, permittee shall surrender and vacate the premises, remove permittee's personal property therefrom, and repair any damage resulting from such removal. Subject to the approval of the permitter, permittee shall also return the premises to as good order and condition (subject to ordinary wear and tear and damage that is not caused directly or indirectly by permittee) as that existing upon the effective date.
- b) All Permittee's Personal Property shall remain the property of Permittee. However, if after the Termination Date, Permittee shall fail satisfactorily to remove Permittee's Personal Property and so repair the Premises, then, at the Permitter's sole option, after notice to Permittee, Permittee's Personal Property, shall either become the property of the Permitter without compensation therefore, or the Permitter may cause it to be removed and the Premises to be repaired at the expense of Permittee, and no claim for damages against Permitter, its employees, agents or contractors shall be created or made on account of such removal or repair work.

28) LIMITATION ON EFFECT OF APPROVALS

- a) All rights of Permitter to review, comment upon, approve, inspect or take any other action with respect to the use and occupancy of the Premises by Permittee, or any other matter, are expressly for the benefit of Permitter and no other party. No review, comment, approval or inspection, right or exercise of any right to perform Permitter's obligations, or similar action required or permitted by, of, or to Permitter under this Permit, or actions or omissions of Permitter's employees, contractors, or other agents, or other circumstances shall give or be deemed to give Permitter any liability, responsibility or obligation for, in connection with, or with respect to the operation of the Premises, nor shall any such approval, actions, information or circumstances relieve or be deemed to relieve Permittee of its obligations and responsibilities for the use and occupancy of the Premises as set forth in this Permit.

29) WAIVER NOT CONTINUING

- a) The waiver of any Default, whether such waiver be expressed or implied, shall not be construed as a continuing waiver, or a waiver of or consent to any subsequent or prior breach of the same or any other provision of this Permit. No waiver of any Default shall affect or alter this Permit, but each and every Provision of this Permit shall continue in full force and effect with respect to any other then existing or subsequent Default.

30) LIENS

- a) Permittee shall have no power to do any act or to make any contract that may create or be the foundation for any lien, mortgage or other encumbrance upon the reversion, fee interest or other estate of the Permitter or of any interest of the Permitter in the Premises. If any such lien shall at anytime be filed against the Premises or any portion thereof, Permittee shall cause the Permitter to be discharged from the lien.

31) HOLDING OVER

- a) This Permit shall terminate upon the Termination Date and any holding over by Permittee after the Termination Date shall not constitute a renewal of this Permit or give Permittee any rights under this Permit or in or to the Premises.

32) NOTICES

- a) Any notice or other communication required or permitted under this Permit shall be in writing and shall be delivered by hand or certified mail with return receipt requested. Notices and other communications shall be addressed as follows:

EXHIBIT B
GRAZING STANDARDS
DEFINITIONS

1) PROPER USE

- a) Proper use is a range management term defined as "the degree of livestock utilization of the current year's range forage growth which, if continued, will achieve management objectives and maintain or improve the long term productivity of the site" (RISC Report 1983).

2) RESIDUAL DRY MATTER

- a) Residual dry matter (RDM), sometimes called mulch residue, refers to the amount of forage plant material remaining on the range in the fall following spring and summer grazing. RDM consists of litter or dried plant material (either standing or on the ground) from the current season's growth. It does not include unpalatable forbs or weeds, woody plants, new green growth or dung. Research on California rangelands has shown the importance of RDM in protecting the soil from erosion, improving soil fertility, structure and infiltration rate, and in providing beneficial surface conditions for plant growth.

3) KEY AREAS

- a) A key area is approximately two (2) acres in size. It is a portion of a pasture that is selected as a monitoring point to evaluate the overall pasture conditions.
- b) Factors used in the selection of key grazing areas include:
- i) Kind and class of grazing animal
 - ii) Range site(s), representative slope, conditions and trend
 - iii) Grazing system used of planned
 - iv) Season of use
 - v) Pasture size
 - vi) Location of fences and natural barriers, water supplies, salt and mineral block and feeding areas
- c) Key areas have the following characteristics:
- i) They consist of a single "range site" (a classification of land based on specific soil characteristics and potential natural plant community).
 - ii) They are responsive to various management practices and reflect the results of current grazing practices.
 - iii) They represent the average amount of use for the pasture.
- d) Key areas are not located where livestock congregate such as around water and feed supplement facilities and loafing areas, nor are they located in little-used portions of pasture.
- e) Ranchers will be invited to participate in the selection of key areas. Once selected, they will be identified on range maps and maps associated with Special Use Permit or Agricultural (Dairy and Beef Cattle) Use Permits.

4) MONITORING PROCEDURES

- a) Several procedures or techniques are needed to gather sufficient information to monitor both present range condition and range trend over the long term. The three indicators which will be used to evaluate range conditions and trend on National Park Service lands are residual dry matter, species composition changes, and forage productivity.

5) RESIDUAL DRY MATTER STANDARDS AND PROCEDURES

- a) Proper use of the mixed perennial/annual ranges in the Point Reyes area is best evaluated by measuring the amount of residual dry matter (RDM) at the end of the summer grazing period just prior to the fall rains.
- b) RDM is important in that it improves surface conditions for plant growth by providing more organic matter in the top soil and by sheltering seedlings from the desiccating effects of sun and wind. Thus it provides a favorable micro-environment for early seedling growth and extends the season in which forage is available. RDM is also important in that it provides soil protection against erosion by reducing the impact of rain splash, slowing runoff and enhancing infiltration.
- c) The RDM standard recommended by the Soil Conservation Service for Point Reyes and vicinity is 1200 pounds air dry weight per acre as an average for all grazed lands regardless of slope. Using 1200 pounds as an average will allow for areas of less than that amount, which will likely occur in very rocky or shallow soils and in areas where cattle tend to concentrate. In these areas 1000 pounds per acre is the minimum acceptable amount. Any pasture which has less than 1200 pounds per acres will need other areas with more than this amount in order to attain an overall RDM measurement of 1200 pounds per acre. High impact areas described in Section C are excluded from RMP requirements.
- d) RDM will be measured in two types of surveys September 1 and October 15, just prior to the fall rainy season. Intensive RDM sampling is conducted on key areas using the "Double Sampling Weight Estimation Method" for measuring RDM (Wilm et al 1944). This statistically based method has been extensively field tested and is a standard range management technique for RDM measurement. The double sampling method makes possible the monitoring of many range units during the few weeks of the year which are suitable for RDM measurement. The measured results in each key area are correlated with plant species cover data in evaluating the effects of grazing management on the range resource.
- e) RDM mapping is conducted on all rangelands throughout the ranchlands. RDM is estimated over entire pastures in terms of broad classes or "zones of utilization". The zones are defined as "severe" (0-600 lb/acre); "heavy" (600-1200 lb./acre); "moderate" (1200-1800 lb./acre); and "light" (over 1800 lb./acre). The survey consists of walking through each pasture to the extent that all acreage can be viewed, and delineating the zones of field range maps in varying colors. The intensively sampled key areas are used as reference sites to aid in visual estimation of RDM zones. This method actually depicts livestock utilization patterns and identifies and quantifies overgrazed areas.

6) PLANT SPECIES COMPOSITION

- a) Range condition refers to the "health" of vegetation and soil on a particular site in relation to its natural potential. It is evaluated on the basis of the kinds, proportions and amounts of plants and the soil features in a given area.
- b) Line/point composition transects are one way of measuring the kinds and proportion of plants on a site. In this method, surveying tapes are laid out in a key area and individual plant species are identified and tallied at 400 random points located in relation to the tape. The resulting data is summarized in terms of the proportion of plant species present. In range management terminology this is referred to as "composition". The total percentage of plant cover, bare ground and litter is also summarized.
- c) Plant composition transects are sampled in spring after seed heads have developed and grasses are readily identifiable. Transects will initially be read each year to determine if the plant community is stable or changing. Changes in the proportion of desirable versus non-desirable forage species indicate whether the range condition is improving or declining in quality over a period of years. In range management terminology this is called monitoring range "trend."

7) FORAGE PRODUCTIVITY

- a) Range condition and trend can also be evaluated by measuring forage productivity. Productivity can be defined as the weight, in pounds per acre, of palatable forage species. Productivity data supplements composition data by providing an index of plant vigor and an estimate of yield.

- b) Forage productivity data may be used in two ways:
- c) By comparing forage productivity data between pastures with similar soil characteristics, and estimate of range conditions can be obtained.
- d) By comparing forage productivity data over many years (and adjusting for rainfall) a direction can be established indicating an improving or declining range trend.

8) HIGH IMPACT AREAS

- a) The size and location of high impact areas allowed for each specific ranch unit shall be mutually agreed upon by the rancher and the National Park Service. Wherever possible, high impact areas will be restricted to level (less than 10% slope), well-drained areas, 200 feet from perennial streams or other bodies of water. Areas near main roads and other high visitor use zones will be avoided where possible.
- b) It is recognized that a high degree of trampling and denudation of vegetation is unavoidable on these sites. Therefore, the "proper use" standards described above will not apply.
- c) Examples include corrals and feedlots where livestock are confined for management purposes and permanent feeding and watering facilities.

9) MANAGEMENT PRACTICES

- a) Recommendations will be developed and implemented for any pastures, which fall below the minimum standard. For example, range conditions may reflect an unusually dry winter, and an average of range conditions over several years may be used to evaluate whether or not a reduction in animal units being grazed is necessary. Additionally, improvements in range condition may be made by changes in fencing or stock water facilities to obtain better distribution of animals. Other alternatives include changing the length of time or period of grazing, changing the type and class of livestock, or transferring animals from pastures to impact areas and increasing the supplemental feed.
