Go On Assignment

with scientists

You are invited! Join National Geographic and the National Park Service for the Rocky Mountain National Park BioBlitz. The two-day celebration of biodiversity centers on a 24-hour discovery of species. Teams of experts and volunteers will explore the park's majestic mountains, meadows, lakes, streams, forests and tundra to have as many personal species discoveries as possible.

Goals of the BioBlitz

- Discover, count, map, and learn about the living creatures in the park including insects, fish, wildflowers, birds, elk, pika, and more.
- Provide scientists and public an opportunity to do field work together.
- Add to the park's official species list.
- Highlight the importance of protecting the biodiversity of this extraordinary place.

All events
are free
and
open to the public!
