Male wood ducks are some of the most colorful birds in North America. Despite the riot of color, their plumage provides incredible camouflage.

In This Stretch

- This 4.5 miles of lake-like water is used extensively by powerboats. There is a slow no wake rule. (See map)
- Paddlers should consider headwinds and that the river current is generally slow when planning trip times.
- Canoers and kayakers should paddle near the shore and head into boat wakes to avoid capsizing.
- The Boom Site Landing and the northern city limits of Stillwater, Minnesota, mark the boundary of the federally managed St. Croix National Scenic Riverway.
- Upstream travel past the High Bridge is prohibited to prevent the spread of zebra mussels and other invasive species.
