Program Descriptions

Birding 101

Do you dream of being the next John James Audubon or Roger Tory Peterson, but you can't figure out where to start? Come to the lobby of the John Muir Lodge for this 1-hour talk, which will give you the tools you need to start identifying and appreciating the birds with whom we share the world.

Birding Information Table

Drop by the front of the Kings Canyon Visitor Center to talk with US Forest Service biologist Jeff Cordes about the importance of migratory birds. Free materials will be available along with stories of birds common to the area.

Bird Walk with the Fresno Audubon Society

Time and meeting place will be announced at the program Friday night, or contact the Fresno Audubon Society at 559-715-2473.
