The Society sent one box of clothing and dried fruit to the hospital of the 102d regiment and since learned from Mr. Perry Strow, at Bowling Green; that it had been received and forwarded. Also have contributed 24 cans of fruit, seven pillow slips, one dozen and a half of saucers to the Wooster Aid Society, to be sent to Vicksburg.

Our meetings have been removed from Temple Hall to private houses, and we solicit a full attendance of all Templars and others that would cheerfully meet with us. There will be a meeting on the evening of the 20th inst., at Dr. R. McDowell's. There is important business on hand, and we wish a full attendance.

LETTER FROM COL. WILEY.

List of the Wayne County Boys Wounded at the Battle of Murfreesboro'.

IN FRONT OF MURFREESBORO', TENN., }
January 1st, 1863. }
J. H. OBERLY, Esq.—An engagement between the 14th Army Corps, commanded by General from the rebel line to our left, gave us to understand that they were charging our left flank. Louder, and more terrible grow the musketry and cannonading,—away we went double quick, dashing through a creek with two feet of water. Our brigade was moved to the extreme left and did not participate much in the engagement. But part of our Division suffered terribly. The enemy was repulsed and driven back with a loss I think, greater than our own. They have now tried both our flanks, and I know not what they will do next.

The day that they attacked our right, they in part surprised a Division, and thus achieved a partial success, but they gained nothing on the left.

Yesterday, Saturday, there was some fighting along the line but none in our brigade. We were in front on the extreme left, Company C, was on picket. It rained nearly all night Friday night, Saturday and Saturday night. Today we crossed back over the creek again, wading through three feet of water. I am now drying myself by the fire as I write. Our wounded are all doing well, and I think no others will die. The three that were missing have returned to the company.

We have had enough to eat, and fared as well as could be expected thus far. Our success in repulsing and driving back the enemy on Friday cheered up our men, and brought them back to their usual good spirits again. Had not night come upon us, I candidly believe we would have driven the enemy back to their works in town, and perhaps out of them. Indeed it is reported through our lines to-day that they have left Murfreesboro, though I can hardly believe it.

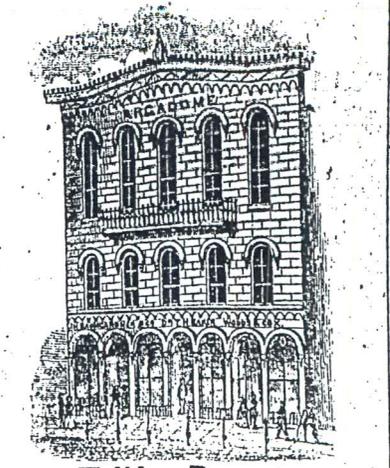

I trust all to my superior officers hoping that they will always work for the best.

CAMP OF THE 104TH O. V. I.
Danville, Jan. 8, 1863.

MR. FOREMAN—DEAR SIR—Knowing that many of your readers are interested in the success of the 104th, I send this to inform you where we are and what we are doing. We lay for sometime at Lexington, Ky., where we were becoming very proficient in drill. Our brigade is composed of the 44th, 100th, 103d, and 104th Ohio regiments, under command of Col. S. A. Gilbert, of the 44th. We left Lexington on the 10th of December, and that night camped on the ground our troops occupied when they made their last stand in the disastrous Richmond fight in August last, and we arrived at Richmond in the evening of the 11th expecting to meet a large rebel force, said to be approaching the place. We were immediately set to work digging ditches, &c. We spent a very pleasant christmas there, the weather was warm and delightful, as Spring in Ohio. We were paid on the 26th, up to Nov. 1st, and we are just now "flush." But I must mention our great disappointment. A gentleman from Akron came into camp on the 27th, bringing provisions for us, amounting to five tons, 1750 lbs. The next morning the boxes were distributed, and the boys ate a hearty meal and went to sleep; some, no doubt, dreaming of the rich luxuries sent by the dear ones at home, upon which they could feast a few days, when lo! about midnight an order came for us to leave our strong fortifications, which we had just completed, and go to Danville, Ky. The boys were almost as much surprised as they would have been to meet Morgan and his army. But they all ate a very hearty breakfast, and we started.

Our friends at home can see by this little circumstance how useless it is to send "too much of a good thing" at once, to an army

"Liverpool Rock," or "Ground Alum" Salt.
This is the best Salt for curing meat, and you can buy it as cheap as common Lake Salt, at the Arcade.
J. H. BAUMGARDNER & CO.

Baumgardner's Spencerian Pens.
We have just received a large stock of these superior Steel Pens made to our order, with our name on each pen. Mr. Musser says they are the pen. For sale wholesale or retail at the Arcade.
J. H. BAUMGARDNER & CO.

Save your Flax Straw.
Farmers look to your interest and gather up the Flax Straw that you have thrown away, and spread it and let it rot, then break it and save the flax and tow together. Bring it to the Arcadome and we will pay you $3 per hundred pounds. You that have no flax breaks can readily make them. You will find it will pay. We want it to make coarse paper. Get it as clean as possible.
J. H. BAUMGARDNER & CO.

ECONOMY IS WEALTH.

SAVE YOUR RAGS.
In times of war it is necessary for the people to use the greatest economy. The wealthy should do so in order that they may help the poor, and the poor should do so in order that they may help themselves. Therefore, save your Rags, Paper, &c., and bring them to the Arcadome. To encourage this enterprise we will pay the following prices:
Cotton Rags, 8 1/2 cents per lb.
All Wool, 2 do
Mixed Wool, 1 do
Old Newspapers, 1 do
Don't be ashamed to bring rags to market. They are just as necessary as Butter and Eggs. We can't make paper without them.
