

FREDERICK STUART WILEMAN

F. S. Wileman was born June 2, 1844 in Danbury, Connecticut, son of Miles Herman Wileman and Emily J. Stuart. During the Civil War, he enlisted in the 21st Michigan Volunteer Infantry, Co. B, on August 13, 1862 at Grand Rapids, Michigan. He was 18 years old, 5' 7" tall, with black hair, gray eyes and dark complexion, and gave his occupation as "Clerk" (Volunteer Enlistment, US Archives) He was mustered-in at Camp Siegle, Ionia, Michigan on September 9, 1862 for a 3 year term. On December 28, 1862 he was detailed to Provost Guard. On December 31, 1862 he was captured at Murphreesboro, Tennessee, Battle of Stone's River. He was held at Libby Prison, Richmond, Va. On February 3, 1863 (also given as January 26, 1863) he was paroled at City Point, Virginia (Pension Records, US Archives) While imprisoned, he contracted heart disease "caused by being subjected to exposure to rain and cold weather ... and because of insufficient and improper food furnished him by the enemy which resulted in his having chronic diarrhea, piles, kidney disease and rheumatism from all of which he has suffered more or less, ever since his imprisonment aforesaid. That his disability which is principally heart disease is not due to vicious habits ..." (General Affidavit made Jan 29, 1892) He reported at Camp Parole, Maryland February 5, 1863. On February 26, he was ill with catarrh. He reported to Camp Chase, Ohio March 22, 1863 and requested transportation to Detroit. From August to October 1863, he was absent from the muster-roll because of illness. He was mustered out June 8, 1865. He was listed as having been in Co. D, 1st Reg't Paroled Prisoners, US Army, formed for duty compatible with parole. Rank: private (All above from military records, US Archives). His first name is variously given as Frederick, Fredric, Frederic, Fredk, and is signed by him as Fredric and Fredrick.

F. S. Wileman, age 26, married Margaretha Frederica Wilson known as Margaret or Marguerite, age 21, on October 20, 1870. His occupation is given as carpenter and joiner. They had three children: Herman Miles born 1872, Marie Emily born 1877, and Jennie Stephanie born 1886. Margaretha died of meningitis on Jan 21, 1891, Grand Rapids, Michigan (death certificate)

On September 30, 1893, Frederick S. Wileman married Elida R. Empson Mallory in Grand Rapids. Both listed one previous marriage. On October 30, 1900 at age 53 (ages on Marriage License and pension application are not consistent) Elida Wileman applied for 1/2 of the pension due to F. S. Wileman who "has deserted his wife since the 7th day of February, A.D. 1900, now over 8 months, he having left without cause or provocation and has never returned or aided in her support." On their marriage license, F.S. Wileman lists his occupation as "Painting." (Pension records, US Archives)

Frederick Wileman moved to Washington, D.C. In 1909 his last illness began. He was nursed for 9 months in 1910 by his daughter, Marie Hudson. He returned to Grand Rapids and stayed at 22 Packard St. with Mr. and Mrs. Herman M. Wileman. After an eight week stay, he died in the Harry Martin Soldier's Home in Grand Rapids on October

24, 1911 at 5:00 a.m. He was 67. He died of "intestinal obstruction and progressive muscular atrophy--organic heart disease."

He left an insurance policy for $95.00 from Prudential. The premiums were paid by "other than the deceased, $3.25 per month for seven years." Benefits went to H. M. Wileman.

F. S. Wileman was buried at Oak Hill Cemetery, Grand Rapids, Michigan.

Letter from F.S. Wileman & others requesting transportation to Detroit

June 26, 1863

Camp Chase, Ohio
Col. Smith. Sir

Having been duly examined by the Surgeon, myself and Charles Dickenson and James H. Binney have been put in the Invalid Corps. A squad of men who designed for the Invalid Corps and were in the Hospittle has been sent to Detroit, but not [belonging] to the hospittle we could not go. The Doctor told me I would have to wait [?] months before I could go to Detroit unless I could get transportation there he said I could go. The Surgeon says he would rather I was in Detroit than in Camp Chase. Now is it in your power to send myself and comrads _____ transportation _____ by sending to us the Required transportation nessesary for us to have to get to Detroit, you will do us a favor that we shall never forget.

Though I have been in this Camp 3 months I have not been home yet. I never will go home unless I can get a furlough. If I go home I wish to go with a free conscience and hold my head as high as anyone in similar circumstances.

I enlisted in the 21st Regt for 3 years unless sooner discharged and I shall remain in the servis till I get home honorable.

I am the same man that wrote to you before about getting a light duty in Detroit. You wrote to me that the way to get a light duty was to get assigned to the Invalid Corps. I have done so and only haven't the means to get to Detroit. Excuse my Blunders if you please. I am so nervous I can hardly write.

Dear Father & Mother

I received your letter of the 28th 1863 with much pleasure. Yesterday and today I have had the diarrhea pretty bad. Yesterday I was examined by the medical director of the District of Columbus or the head Doc of the State of Ohio and 3 others, surgeons of the highest order. There is only 30 or 40 sick exchanged men in this camp, all the rest are paroled men, so we were examined so they could see who was fit to go to their Regt and to see how many were playing off(?) A great many were sent to their Regts. When they came to examine me, the head surgeon said, well, my son, what is the matter with you. I told him that my heart was affected and I had hard work to breathe, he got up and unbuttoned my shirt, put his ear to my breast and listened, then he said that is so; you have got it and no mistake it is right there. He said this to the other doctors. The rest of them examined me and said twas so. They asked me what I thought brought it on. I told them I first felt it when I was on the march from Louisville to Nashville in the hot sun. One of the doctors then said I was a fit subject for a discharge. They then put my name on a piece of paper and dismissed me. I am to remain here, how long I do not know. I have been ordered to report to headquarters tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock. What for I do not know. The inhabitants of Penn will soon know what war is. Gen. Rosecrans is in the west has whipped them up at Shelbyville and is now fighting them at Tullahoma. May God aid him in his efforts for he is one of the best generals we have in the field. Oh how mad it makes me to see the changes they have made in the eastern army. I see a great many of the Union League have enlisted. Now take my advice and do not enlist, you could not stand it a month. Father, I thank you a thousand times for your offer of sending me money, but I do not feel able to use it. I may want 2 or 3 dollars. When I do I will surely notify you. I have got plenty of government clothes. I am not destitute of clothes by any means. I will wait till I feel better off before I get me a vest and other things. I went to Sunday school last Sunday. They wanted me to read some verses in the Bible. I did so and in the afternoon I went to church. I then went home. I shall go next Sunday. I am sorry you've sold your house in Grand Rapids but you know best about it I suppose. I am sorry your B----- was stollen. I will bet that no more of my money is stollen, but I will now close, so good by. My respects to all. Write soon.

Yours with respect and love

F. S. Wileman

Also, yesterday it rained hard quite so. I hope you will enjoy the 4th of July. I do not care a snap for it. I had my fourth of July at the Battle of Murphreesboro. I think it was equal to Van Amberg's manoeuvres.

Dear Superintendent:

My family and I visited Stones River on Labor Day this year, and I left copies and other information about my great-grandfather in your regimental file for the 21st Michigan. This letter is a follow-up to one of his letters.

In the postscript to his July 1, 1863, letter to his parents, Frederick Stuart Wileman, aged 19 at the time, wrote: "I hope you will enjoy the 4th of July. I do not care a snap for it. I had my fourth of July at the Battle of Murphreesboro. I think it was equal to Van Amberg's maneuvers."

Through some Internet correspondence, I have learned who "Van Amberg" was. "Isaac Van Amburgh (1801-1865) was a lion tamer famous here and in Europe. His maneuver was to place his head in the lion's mouth." Another source on the Internet says that he was the first to perform this particular trick.

Thus, it seems that Private Wileman likened lining up with Sheridan to face Polk and Hardee to putting his head in the lion's mouth. I hope you can make some use of this tidbit.

I would like to know if I can obtain a copy of the photograph of members of the 21st Michigan in your file, the one that appears on the wall of your display on the battle. Of course, the chances that great-grandpa Wileman is in the picture are slim, but it would still be a great keepsake, especially an enlargement suitable for framing. Please let me know what I need to do to get a copy. Of course, I would be happy to pay for the copy and the cost of delivery.

Thank you very much.

Sincerely,

Ted Hudson

Frederick S. Wileman Dies at the Soldiers' Home

Corporal Frederick S. Wileman is dead at the Michigan Soldiers' Home, aged sixty-seven years. Mr. Wileman entered the home early last August. He was ill at that time and continued so until his death at the institution hospital. When he registered at the home he gave the address of a son, Herman M. Wileman of 66 Packard street, who has since gone to Washington, D. C. Mr. Wileman was notified of his father's death and funeral arrangements will not be made until officials have been notified by the son. Mr. Wileman served in Company E, Twenty-first Michigan infantry.
