

Every Kid in a Park Field Trip

Time Commitment: 4 hours

Max Capacity: 150 participants

What does an Every Kid in a Park Field Trip Look Like?

The World War II Valor in the Pacific National Monument ParkEDU (Park Education) Team is happy to announce a new Field Trip Program specifically tied to Every Kid in a Park! Teachers can request an Every Kid in the Park field trip just as they would any other field trip by filling out our Online Request a Field Trip Form (pre-site visits will be discussed when the request has been received by ParkEDU).

Every Kid in a Park Field Trip requests require:

1. A Pre-Site Visit: A ParkEDU team member will come to your computer lab or classroom and give a history of the National Park Service focusing on the WWII Valor in the Pacific National Monument site. We will also walk your students through the process of obtaining their Every Kid in a Park Pass. These passes can then be emailed to the students, printed by the school, or printed at home. These paper passes can be exchanged for a hard pass at a federal recreation area or park where interagency passes are issued. The in-class portion of the ParkEDU visit should take no more than an hour per classroom visit.
2. National Park Site Visit (either visiting WWII Valor in the Pacific NM-Oahu, Haleakala-Maui, or any of the National Park Sites on the Big Island): 4th grade students will participate in our Junior Ranger Scavenger Hunt (Time Commitment 4 hours, Max Capacity 150 participants).
3. Post-Site Follow Up: Teachers, we want to know how ParkEDU and the National Parks have helped you and your students. We will email you a survey and ask that you give us a critique, let us know what you want more of or less of. These are America's parks. These are your parks. Help us make them what you want them to be.

For field trips to WWII Valor in the Pacific National Monument, we can provide up to $500 for transportation to and from your school to our park site (wait time will not be covered).
