

An Evening with Paul A. Hutton and W. Richard West, Jr.

Dr. Paul A. Hutton, a professor of history at the University of New Mexico, has authored many articles and books, including Phil Sheridan and His Army (1999) and edited many publications such as The Custer Reader (2004). His dynamic presentation style and in-depth knowledge have made him a sought after film consultant on documentaries produced for PBS, A&E, the History Channel, and other networks. He will speak on “Custer and the Washita,” with an emphasis on how the attack reflected the emerging military policy for the West.
