

ANGLER ALERT

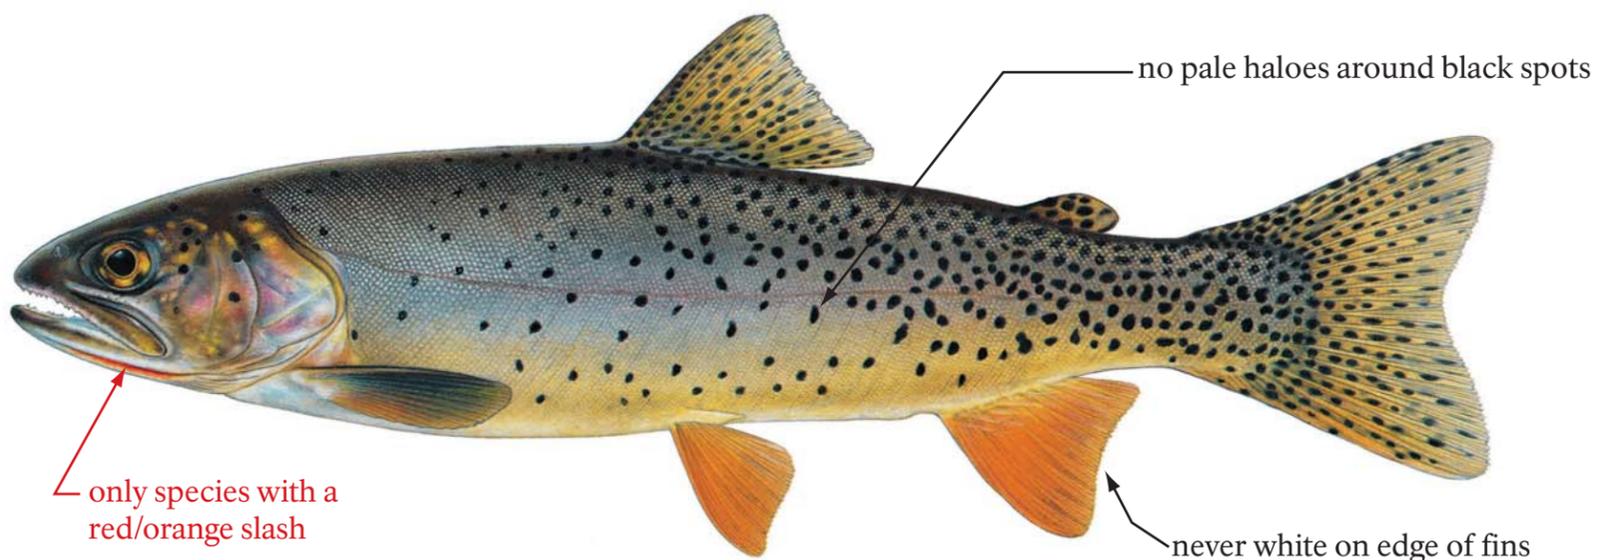

Yellowstone National Park

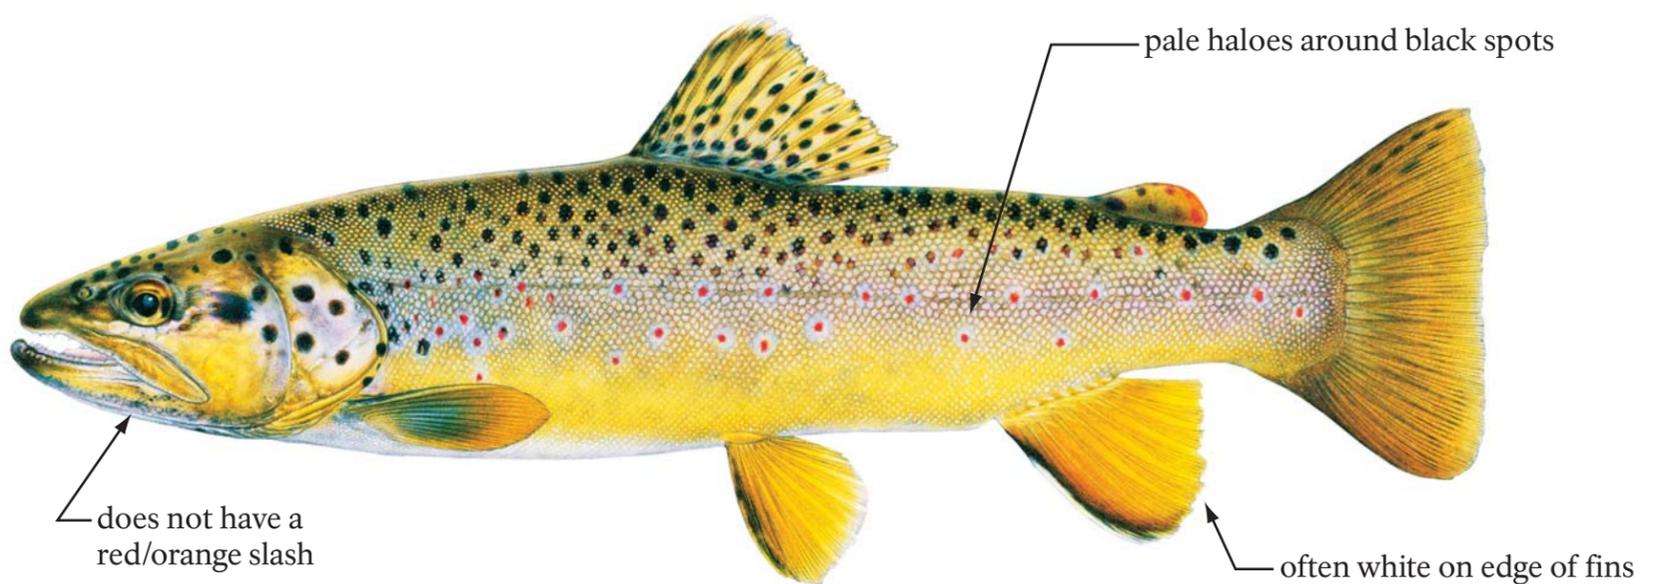

Please help with our native fish conservation efforts.

YOU CAN HAVE AN IMPACT.

IF IT HAS A SLASH, PUT IT BACK!

Yellowstone cutthroat trout, a native species, is fully protected by park catch-and-release regulations.

Brown trout are a non-native, introduced species, and their harvest is encouraged.

KNOW THE DIFFERENCE

If you are unsure of the identification, return the fish to the lake or stream where it was caught. Check the park fishing regulations for details.

Please be familiar with the park fishing regulations before fishing. For more information, stop at any Visitor Center. If you witness a violation, please contact a park ranger immediately or call 307-344-2101.
